Future Version 5: Visioning

Future of Work
Future of Lifestyle
Future of Health

Serving as an intermediary between data driven equitable solutions and the people.

Personal Expectations:

Wants to approach emergent technology as a designer that has positive implications in society or individuals' life.

Establishing communication within multidisciplinary teams to have diversity of perspectives in the entire design process.

Agreeing on setup of team dynamics where everyone feels passionate about the project and are respected for the work they bring into the team.

Team members don't hold back on their perspectives when we have conversations, I don't want to think of my projects as just design projects.

FAQ:

1.How does Arijit like to spend his free time?
A-Hanging out with friends with drinks > Nerding on tech, anime or sci-fi > Binge watching shows.

2.Whats the origin of Arijit?
A-Jamshedpur, India. You probably haven't heard of the place but it's the first planned city of India. Arijit worked as an architect here for 5 years too.

3.Which part of the design process does Arijit enjoy the most?
A.Arijit enjoy Ideation and Prototyping the experience. Arijit gets very excited about contextual research to get deeper understanding of people's life.

Troubleshooting:

1.Arijit isn't as active as he usually is in the meetings from the start.
A-Try to ask about the day so far, there might be an issue with energy depletion in prior works.

2.Arijit was excited at first in the meeting but seems disinterested now.
A-Arijit has a flaw of being diplomatic, he is probably not liking how the discussion is going but is polite to say out loud. Take a step back and ask him if he has other thoughts.

3.I am trying to communicate remotely with Arijit but I don't know how.
A.Follow the protocol below to get to him.
